

Live news - Action painting with audience/ The latest radio news broadcast comes out from loud speakers, in the same time we Nikita Kazarnovskiy (Russia) and Henry Grahn Hermunen (Finland) paint our impressions on the transparent acrylic membran in between us.

Some of the idea

Different "cultures" meets up, for example Russia and Finland have had a very complicated (east and west) relation trough the history. Today the west have even a stronger focus on some parts of the "muslim world".

How do Information and media shape us? How do we interact and react?

Ofcourse this painting project is also interested in many other areas, how do we paint to different types of food for exaple (the audience could serve us or throw some to us) or what about money?
